

Job Announcement
Manager of Generosity

Organization Description:

The Contingent is a 501 (c) (3) venture non-profit focused on sparking and holding initiatives to empower leaders and mobilize community for the common good. Since our inception we have centered the perspectives, skills and needs of people of color and low-income Oregonians to challenge the status quo and transform our communities: from the four corners of the block to the four corners of Oregon. We ask hard questions. We take risks. And we link arms with our neighbors, including business partners, faith communities, and government agencies.

The position detailed supports The Contingent's initiatives, including Every Child (www.everychildoregon.org), Emerging Leaders (www.emergingleaderspdx.org), Know Me Now (www.knowmenow.org), and SINE (www.sine.org).

From mentoring to mobilizing volunteers to restructuring systems that work for some at the cost of others, we prioritize uplifting and empowering leaders to transform their communities. For more information about the initiatives of The Contingent, please visit www.thecontingent.org.

Opportunity Summary:

The Contingent is making a robust investment in our advancement and supporter engagement team. The Manager of Generosity is a new role that will be integral in the building of the new Generosity + Investment team including but not limited to, training Directors around supporter care, leading annual, capital and planned giving efforts as well as identifying, cultivating, soliciting, and stewarding new and current major gift supporter prospects ensuring organizational goals are met. This leader will have an active role in all aspects of fundraising events, grants management, communication strategy, and donor management software implementation and will work closely with the marketing and programmatic teams. The Manager of Generosity will supervise the Generosity Specialist and report to and work closely with The Contingent's Executive Leadership Team and related staff to build a culture of philanthropy and generosity and develop a pipeline of major gift and corporate donors as well as create and maintain strong relationships with foundations.

In addition to managing their own portfolio of major gift donors, the Manager of Generosity will oversee all funding sources, as well as hold the Executive Leadership Team and Initiative Directors accountable for stewarding their own portfolios.

The Contingent is searching for a proven, relationally minded Manager of Generosity that would help to create and be responsible for implementing The Contingent's fundraising vision—to invite partners into the compelling stories and the programs that enhance those communities. The Contingent's fundraising philosophy is centered on a relational, team-oriented approach to development, with the goal of building deep, meaningful, and life-long financial partnerships. The Manager of Generosity will need to both articulate and respond to a Biblical motivation for generosity as many of The Contingent's supporters are actively involved in the Christian faith community.

In conjunction with the Executive Leadership Team, the Manager of Generosity will be responsible for The Contingent's development and communication efforts and ensure alignment with The Contingent's overall vision and core beliefs. Ultimately, the Manager of Generosity is responsible for executing sophisticated and innovative strategies that lead The Contingent towards financial sustainability and a growing, dynamic brand presence.

The ideal candidate for this position sees supporter care as an extension of The Contingent's commitment to practice radical hospitality. They are a pro-active strategist; someone who takes initiative, a relationship and team builder, delights in creative process development, and equipping others with the tools they need to lead out of their strengths. They are process minded with particular skill in project management, coordination, and coaching others.

Personifying our hopeful, collaborative, generous, and determined core values, this role will think out-of-the-box to provide meaningful connections to all supporters. This role will lead the way to provide the resources and funds to meet The Contingent's mission and goals for years to come.

The ideal Manager of Generosity candidate will be a:

Relationship Builder. The Manager of Generosity has a history of building relationships. They know how to initiate, care for, build and follow up on relationships that provide the foundation for impactful fundraising work.

Proven Leader and Team Builder. The Manager of Generosity must be able to successfully “lead leaders.” This requires an individual with a tried and tested philosophy on leadership, as well as an innate ability to identify and develop the unique gifts, skills, and passions of others and to coach them towards growth and success.

Collaborative Project Manager. The Manager of Generosity has a proven track record of accomplishing tasks. They will lead the programmatic staff in supporter stewardship, and project teams around individual grants and events. They are able to define and determine priorities in real time, utilize project management software, build collaboration, and keep the workflow going to meet the goals of generosity and investment.

Strategic Thinker. The Manager of Generosity should possess strategic abilities and experience, including the ability to design strategic vision and the ability to leverage data and other resources to identify opportunities, challenges and vulnerabilities that implicate organizational goals.

Strong Communicator. The Manager of Generosity will grow into an important external face of The Contingent and must be a compelling communicator and have demonstrated high-touch relationship building experience.

Person Rooted in Equity and Justice. The Manager of Generosity is ultimately responsible for ensuring that The Contingent’s work is shared in a compelling way that honors the dignity and story of all involved and invites partners into a deeper understanding of justice, equity, and their collaborative role in the betterment of a community. This requires that the Manager of Generosity has a heart towards racial justice and a humble desire to engage financial partners in a way that is restorative and equitable.

This leader recognizes the importance of providing supporters what they need to see themselves as full partners and investors in mobilizing community and empowering leaders. They are passionate about getting to know the story behind the story.
